Goodwin Foundation

2024 ANNUAL REPORT

Life throws so many curve balls, whether it's our health, family, or financial struggles, that at times we may want to give up. I have to say, with the support from my professors and this scholarship, it made it so easy to keep going.

KRYSTAL CORNIER
Finish Line Fund Scholarship Recipient, AS Nursing

We are honored to present the Goodwin Foundation 2024 Annual Report. On behalf of the Goodwin Foundation Board and the Goodwin University Board of Trustees, we are so grateful for your ongoing support of the University and for the life-changing impact you have made on our students.

We hope that you share in our pride as you read about the accomplishments of the past year. Through the generosity of our donors, the Foundation awarded $477,400 in scholarship funds to 196 students. This funding was due in part to the great success of our two signature fundraising events. The 10th Annual Clambake raised net proceeds of $59,527, and the 19th Annual Golf Tournament raised a record net of $140,830 to support hard-working Goodwin students.

Some highlights from this year include:

- Commencement guest speaker Henry M. Zachs gifted Goodwin with a $250,000 donation towards our endowment, which will ensure our ability to support deserving students with scholarships in perpetuity.
- Our Board of Trustees and Foundation Board responded to the 25th Anniversary Challenge and raised more than $25,000 to award additional "finish line" scholarships to support students nearing the end of their educational journey.
- Through a generous gift from Foundation Board members Peter and Sue Klock, we created a new $30,000 scholarship fund, the Burd Overton Fund.
- The Future Nurses Scholarship Fund was generously replenished with a $17,000 gift from the Adelman Family Foundation.

The impact of your investment in the Goodwin Foundation is immeasurable. We are grateful for your partnership with us in changing the lives of so many students who, in turn, make great contributions to our communities and to our state's economy.

As we celebrate our 25th Anniversary year, we are proud to count you as part of the Goodwin family. Together, we have a profound impact on thousands of students who are able to forge new futures with the education they receive at Goodwin. We count on your continued support in all that we do!

With gratitude,

MARK SCHEINBERG
Goodwin University President

Recently, my son was hospitalized in the pediatric intensive care unit, and I was uncertain about how I would cover his medical expenses while also paying for college. Thanks to your generosity, I can now focus on managing my son's medical expenses, as you have alleviated a significant burden by covering my college expenses for this semester. Your support is a tremendous relief, and I am deeply thankful for your kindness.

2024 Signature Events

The Goodwin Foundation held two signature events in 2024 to raise funds for student scholarships. The 10th Annual Summer Clambake was held on Goodwin's campus overlooking the Connecticut River on June 21 and featured clambake fare catered by Flander's Fish Market, entertainment by Adam Rivers from iHeart Media, and beverages donated by Square Peg Pizza, Ripe Bar Juice, Putnam Plaza Super Liquors, Hartford Distributors, and Coca-Cola. Special thanks to all our sponsors and friends who made the evening shine, including our Honorary Chair, Congressman John Larson.

A silent auction at the Clambake raised more than $11,400 and featured many unique items and experiences, including a hand-forged grill by Goodwin's Welding program and Adirondack-style chairs built by students from Connecticut River Academy, Goodwin's magnet high school, among other unique items. Henry Zachs

Goodwin University hosted its 2024 Commencement on May 23 at Rentschler Field in East Hartford. Alongside the 375 students who received their degrees that day, Henry M. Zachs was honored with a doctorate degree in Humane Letters. Mr. Zachs is an entrepreneur and philanthropist who made his mark in the wireless industry and has been a trustee, advisor, board member, and donor to dozens of organizations across Connecticut. He is the founder of Endow Hartford 21, an endowment matching program that has helped more than 60 local non-profits in the Greater Hartford area build endowments for the long-term health of their organizations. Goodwin is so grateful for Mr. Zachs' $250,000 contribution to the Goodwin Foundation endowment this year. This donation will ensure Goodwin's ability to provide scholarship support to our deserving students in perpetuity.

Henry M. Zachs received an Honorary Doctorate in Humane Letters at the 2024 Goodwin University Commencement.

Peter and Sue Klock Burd Overton Fund

This year, the Goodwin Foundation was fortunate to welcome two new board members, Peter and Sue Klock. With their deep roots in the community and a long history of philanthropy in higher education, we are grateful for their service to the Foundation. As part of their commitment to the University, they have established the Burd Overton Fund with a $30,000 gift to provide scholarship awards to hardworking Goodwin students. The fund honors the memory of their mothers, both dedicated, successful educators who devoted themselves to the field of education. The majority of Goodwin University students need financial support, and this fund will provide much-needed aid to students looking to complete their academic journey.

Georgia Adelmen and the Adelmen Family Foundation Scholarship for Future Nurses

Georgia Adelman, a retired nurse with years of experience, chose to make a substantial contribution to the Scholarship for Future Nurses Fund this year. Over the years, Georgia, her family, friends, and supporters have provided a variety of resources to nurses via the Adelman Family Foundation. Looking to direct the foundation's remaining funds, Georgia learned of a family friend's positive experience with the Goodwin Nursing program and reached out to the Goodwin Foundation. Her generous gift will support many current and future nursing students and will hopefully inspire others to support scholarships, too.

Fall Scholarship Reception

On October 26, Goodwin welcomed an enthusiastic group of donors and student scholarship recipients at our annual Fall Scholarship reception. Melvis McMillan, in his second year of an associate degree program in Business Administration, shared his journey back to education after dropping out of another college in Connecticut during his freshman year 30 years ago. He is now three years cancer-free and after successfully battling T-cell lymphoma, leukemia, and Covid simultaneously. Melvis was called to go back to school, calling it a "do-over" of sorts. "I know my future is bright, and I have many reasons to continue to fulfill the obligations that I set out to do," he shared. "I have a family to provide for and for me. It is time for a change. I would like to thank the Goodwin Foundation and the donors for the support in helping me accomplish my educational dreams."

Holiday Donor Reception

On December 16, the Goodwin Foundation hosted a "Holiday on the River" donor appreciation celebration. Lisa Simiola, this year's Master's Degree Scholarship recipient, shared her journey through three Nursing programs at Goodwin. Originally, she needed a program that would be conducive to her work schedule, and she graduated with a Goodwin associate degree in Nursing in 2020. Lisa reflected on the irony of the timing saying, "Welcome to nursing — here's a global pandemic!" She went on to enroll in a bachelor's program because, in her words, "The world stopped, but Goodwin didn't!" Because of Goodwin's quick switch to an online learning platform, Lisa was able to work as a travel nurse, reflecting on the time she pulled over at a rest stop in Death Valley in order to complete her discussion board posts.

Not one to be kept down, Lisa enrolled in a master's degree program in the Spring of 2023 with a focus on mental health. She will be graduating in April 2025 and sitting for her boards to become a Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner. As a member of the third cohort to come through this brand-new program, Lisa was appreciative that the faculty asked, and listened to, what the students need. As a result, "They have adapted the curriculum of the program to best suit our needs — one of our final classes will now be dedicated to prepping for the boards."

> This scholarship came at such a perfect time, and I really wanted to thank you again for this help. I will be the best nurse that I can be and will continue to help those in need.

Vietnam Veterans Chapter 120

Several years ago, members of the Vietnam Veterans Chapter 120 established a scholarship fund with the Goodwin Foundation for veteran students. This past year they elected to more than double their support with new contributions. The Goodwin Foundation team celebrated their gift of $22,000 with a luncheon for chapter members and their spouses. Chapter president Bob Burgess acknowledged their heartfelt commitment to veteran students, and Craig Jordan, Veterans Coordinator at Goodwin, addressed the compelling need for scholarship support among veteran students who are working diligently to complete their academic studies. Joining the celebration was Department of Veterans Affairs Commissioner Ronald P. Welch who spoke about his own military service, the challenges he encountered, and the hardships faced by returning Vietnam veterans.

STUDENT SUPPORTS

Goodwin is committed to offering the supports to be sure that every individual with a dream of higher education is able to pursue it and be successful.

2023-2024 statistics we are proud of!

Student Supports

The Ann B. Clark Co-op

The Ann B. Clark Co-op serves the Goodwin University community and is managed by a team of staff and students. Our strategic work with such partners as Connecticut Foodshare, ShopRite, Stop & Shop, Dairy Farmers of America, and Highland Park Market, as well as generous donations from our supporters, ensures that our shelves are always stocked with quality products. Through the passion, generosity, and inspiration of Goodwin University's provost emerita, Ann B. Clark, this service has been endowed and will have resources in perpetuity to address food insecurity, so students never have to choose between groceries and their education.

Student Emergency Response Fund

Because students at Goodwin University often face unexpected challenges, the Foundation established a Student Emergency Response Fund to support the critical needs of our students. Students access this fund through the Student Affairs Department for emergency needs such as fuel and energy assistance, housing, medical, transportation, childcare, and other unexpected situations that arise as roadblocks to persevering in their education.

Student Supports

Laptop Loaner Program

The laptop loaner program enables students to check out a laptop for the duration of the semester in which they are enrolled. For working adults with families, the ability to take remote classes and access computers around the clock is often the only way they can pursue their education. This program ensures that students have access to required technology to be successful in their chosen programs.

Mental Health Counseling Services

Normalizing that we all have struggles that get in the way of our progress at times, Goodwin offers mental health and counselling services, both in person and virtually, to accommodate personal preferences and ensure student confidentiality. Particularly since the pandemic, we see that students have increased need for a safe place to talk through personal struggles and challenges to help them pursue in their education.

As a first-generation college student, this scholarship means more to me than words can convey. It not only provides essential financial support, but it also gives me the opportunity to pursue my dreams of obtaining a college education — something that would have been impossible without your generosity. Growing up, I was always aware of the challenges that come with higher education. My family never really emphasized the importance of education, nor did they feel obligated to help with college. Receiving this scholarship has lifted a huge weight off my shoulders.
